Tuesday's voting:

Doyon, Cross win selectmen's seats

School budget passes easily

By MICHAEL DANIELS

After 12 years on the Bethel Board of Selectmen, the last seven of them as its chairman, Dutch Dresser was narrowly defeated Tuesday in his bid for another term.

Dresser came in third among the five candidates vying for two open seats on the board.

Newcomer Dennis Doyon came in first, with 229 votes. Three-year board incumbent Jack Cross maintained his seat by coming in second, with 206 votes — one more than Dresser's 205.

The remaining two candidates were far behind. Former selectman Bob Everett received 105 votes, while Wally Hannigan, currently a member of the Planning Board, received 70.

Because Dresser's margin of defeat was so narrow, he had the option of asking for a recount, but he said Wednesday he would not.

He also said: "I've fully enjoyed serving as a Bethel selectman for the past 12 years. It has been an honor. I've admired most those selectmen who have accepted the personal risk associated with taking politically unpopular stances on important issues because they knew them to be in the best general interest of the town.

"My hat is off to them. I wish the currently seated selectmen the very best as they face the complicated issues that will continue to affect our town."

Doyon, who had previously served for several years on the Bethel Planning Board, said Wednesday he planned "to use my experience from the Planning Board as I work with the challenges that are brought before the selectboard and vote accordingly in the best interests of the town.

"Our town can be proud of what it has to offer," he said, "and I look forward to helping strengthen its commitment to its employees, infrastructure and future business opportunities."

Concerns raised about BPD 'aggressiveness'

By ALISON ALOISIO

Selectmen at last week's meeting said they had received complaints of some Bethel police officers being, in the words of Stan Howe, "extra aggressive" of late in enforcing traffic laws.

Howe said he had heard directly or indirectly from about a half dozen people who were stopped for violations ranging from defective lights to speeding.

Town Manager Scott Cole said he, too, had received several complaints regarding "overly aggressive" enforcement. He said, for example, that a bicyclist had been given a ticket for running a stop sign.

He said some of the less experienced officers "want to do what they think is the right thing," but may need to "better adapt to the discretion and judgment of the leadership of the Police Department."

Cole also said that in mid-May he and Police Chief Alan Carr met with two representatives of the business community regarding their concerns, including enforcement around area restaurants.

Learning curve
As for incidents like the bicyclist, Carr said some of his more junior officers are still learning on the job.

"It's a young department. We're in a learning curve," he said. "If an officer is being aggressive and it's a problem, I'll pull in the reins. If he's aggressive and doing a good job, I'll back him 100 percent."

Carr said as long as drivers are obeying the traffic laws, they shouldn't have trouble with his officers.

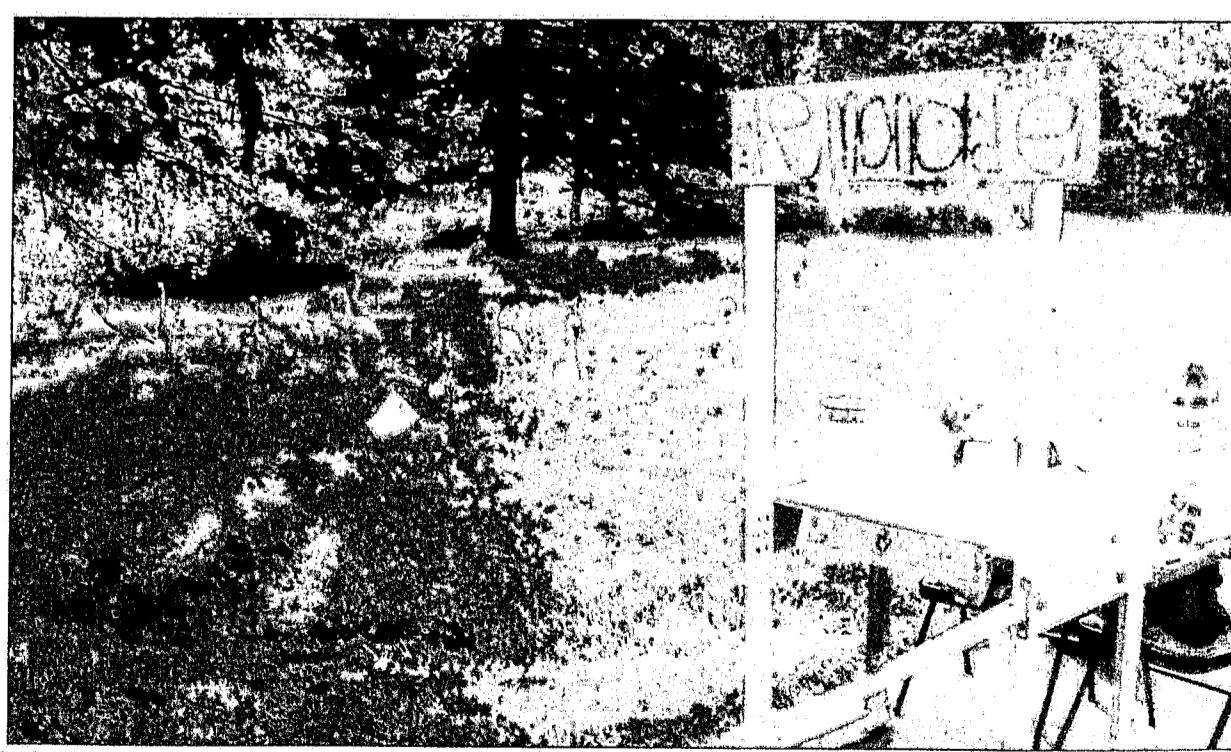

"We won't stop drivers for no reason," he said. "We're not out there to intimidate. We're out to enforce the laws and keep the motoring public safe with whatever it takes, through warnings and summonses."

He also said that stops for minor violations can sometimes...

'FLAMINGOED'

The Youth Group of the Bethel Alliance Church is conducting a fundraiser that brings a flock of plastic flamingos to church members' yards. A person may pay $20 to bring the birds to another's yard. If the "flamingoed" person wishes to have them removed, they make a contribution to the group. The proceeds will benefit the group's summer events. Rains hold off for Telstar graduation

By ALISON ALOISIO

The skies threatened all evening, but the rain gods were merciful Friday as 71 graduates received their diplomas outdoors at Telstar Regional High School's Commencement.

The class marched in to "Pomp and Circumstance," played by the school band.

Principal Shawn Lambert opened the 7 p.m. ceremony, followed by senior Lauren Barletta, salutatorian Matthew Mills and valedictorian Frank Emerson.

Mills gave the audience a math/physics lesson on the probability of life occurring on Earth, and the importance of appreciating that we are here:

"There are more stars in the universe than there are grains of sand on all of Earth's beaches. We are utterly insignificant in comparison to the vastness of the universe, which isn't even something you can sane-ly think about," he said.

"But yes, we were lucky enough to have life. Pretty sweet. Sure, there might be other planets with life on them, but chances are slim to none, and it's even less likely that we'll ever find out. So not only were we miraculously started from single-celled organisms, but we were also one of the only planets out of an incomprehensible number of planets that could and did foster life. Talk about thanking your lucky stars."

"I'm sharing this to remind everyone by what random oc-

Rebels advance to Western championships

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Telstar High School softball and baseball teams both earned spots in the Western Class C championship games, which were scheduled to be played yesterday (Wednesday) at St. Joseph's College.

The lady Rebels, ranked fourth, upset the top-ranked Jay Tigers Saturday in Jay, 2-0.

Telstar managed to get two runs off Bree Loon, the Mountain Valley Conference's Pitcher of the Year. Rebel pitcher Jillian Kimball, meanwhile, allowed the Tigers only three hits.

Telstar was scheduled to play seventh-ranked Mt. Abram for the Western

New patterns of forest ownership emerging in Androscoggin watershed

Raising fresh challenges for those who would protect the land and river

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The landscape is changing — on that point there was no disagreement at a panel discussion Friday on evolving forest ownership patterns in the upper Androscoggin River watershed.

The discussion was one facet of an all-day conference on the "State of the Watershed: Current Issues and Perspectives on the Androscoggin Water- shed and its Landscape."

The conference, held at the Bethel Inn, was sponsored by the Androscoggin River Watershed Council.

Approximately 65 people, the majority from Maine and New Hampshire, attended.

During the morning they took part in a series of presentations on such water-quality issues as acid deposition, mercury pollution, invasive species and recreation.

But the afternoon was devoted to discussion of land ownership in the upper watershed, a 2,300-square-mile region that feeds the Androscoggin upstream of Dixfield.

Bruce Clendenning, northern forest advocate for the Appalachian Mountain Club, moderated the session.

Clendenning outlined the massive scope of the changes.

"In the early 1990s nearly two-thirds of the Upper Androscoggin Watershed was large commercial forestland.

"Five landowners — paper corporations Boise Cascade, James River, International Paper and Champion International and family heirs Pingree (Seven Islands) — owned the bulk of this, or over half of the upper watershed. Today only the Pingrees remain," he said.

"In sum, over half of this area has changed hands in the last 10 years — in some cases multiple times.

There is no more paper-company ownership — today the lands are held primarily by publicly traded or private investor groups (including liquidators and developers) with higher expectations of return and shorter time horizons."

The first panelist, Philip Bryce, director of the New Hampshire Division of Forests and Lands, said a similar pattern of ownership change was reflected across the north.

SELECTMEN BACK PLANNING BOARD

To the Editor:

On June 22 at 7 p.m. the Town of Gilead will hold a special Town Meeting to vote on warrant articles proposing adoption of five ordinances developed for the Town of Gilead by its Planning Board. We, the Gilead Board of Selectmen, appointed the Planning Board following an authorizing town vote to do so. We believe, with development of real estate continuing to grow in the area, that increased growth has already begun to affect development in Gilead, and that a planning board is necessary to provide equitable oversight of future development.

The members of the Planning Board have devoted long hours working with AVCOG and MMA in research, education, and gathering citizen input to draft ordinances that clearly define rules and a process of application and appeals for those who plan to develop property in Gilead.

Attending an AVCOG conference presenting a panel discussion with a developer, a planning board chair, and land use management consultant, the Planning Board learned that people prefer to work with towns that have organized plans of growth and clearly defined ordinances.

The Board of Selectmen believe adopting the proposed ordinances and continuing the Gilead Planning Board, to oversee those ordinances, will establish an equitable and orderly process for development in our town.

Without clearly defined guidelines and knowledgeable individuals administering those guidelines, the process of development becomes haphazard, which opens the town up to lawsuits. We believe it is our duty as officials of this town to protect it from future liability due to negligent administration of laws.

A recently circulated petition, to abolish the Gilead Planning Board, has been presented to the selectmen with the requisite number of signatures to force a warrant article at the special Town Meeting.

While the petitioners claim the new plan creates "far too much red tape to get a building permit," the application process has not changed under the current Planning Board: a building permit application has, is, and always will be required.

In fact, the proposed ordinances ease some prior restrictions by not requiring permits for repairs and maintenance and increasing the cost ceiling from $500 to $1,000 before a permit is required on improvements.

Many rumors have circulated that grossly misstate the word and intent of the proposed ordinances. These ordinances are not designed to force hardship upon the citizens of the town. These ordinances do not require people to paint their houses if they do not wish to. These ordinances do provide clauses for waivers in the case of hardship and a process of appeal if any applicant can show that the law has not been followed properly. These ordinances do provide for an orderly and equitable process by which to grow.

We suggest if anyone has specific concerns about any of the ordinances, they contact us to discuss their concerns.

We state unequivocally that we cannot go back to the old way of doing things. We believe it is our duty and obligation to protect the rights of all citizens of the town, equally. This can only be accomplished through clearly defined and fairly administered laws.

To date we feel that the work of the Planning Board has met these goals. Therefore, the Gilead Planning Board has our full endorsement. We urge all registered voters of the town of Gilead to attend next Wednesday's meeting to support the Planning Board and the proposed ordinances for the town and vote down any attempt to abolish the Gilead Planning Board.

ALBANY YARD SALE DONATIONS

To the Editor:

Once again the Albany Improvement Association is getting ready for their summer yard sale.

Each year the AIA holds a yard sale in which the proceeds help to cover the expenses of maintaining the Albany Town Hall.

We are looking for clean, usable items that people would be willing to donate. If anyone has items that they would like to donate to a good cause they may call me at 824-3611 after 5:30 p.m. or Buzzy Lapham at 824-2568 and leave a message and we will return the call as soon as possible. Please, no clothing donations.

Thank you for assisting us in our endeavors.

REDUCING THE HAZARDS IN BRYANT POND VILLAGE

To the Editor:

In my letter last week concerning Route 26 as it passes through the village of Bryant Pond I listed the hazards that now exist. In this second letter the methods of correcting or, at best, minimizing these problems will be reviewed.

First, at the bottom of Merrifield Hill the intersection with Rumford Road would be modified to provide as closely as possible a right angle so that cars entering Route 2 would have good visibility southerly to the bottom of the hill. This, at the same time would provide the cars coming down the hill the ability to see the cars waiting to enter the highway. However, without some larger changes to the west side of Route 26 it would not materially lessen the danger to vehicles waiting to cross the highway and enter Rumford Avenue. To accomplish this would probably mean widening the road in this area.

The second and most drastic change would occur at the 90-degree turn at the Post Office. To hold the 30 m.p.h. speed presently allowed in the village, the radius of the curve at the corner would have to increase to 305 feet. In drawing this curve on a map it appears the Main House and the building housing the Woodstock Oil Company office would have to be removed or at the very least vehicle access from the highway would be made very difficult or completely deleted.

A suggestion has been made that a traffic light could be installed at the corner. In my brief discussions with the state on this idea, their comments have been very negative. Mention was made of a similar problem in Bethel where a traffic light has been requested and turned down.

In this connection it is the policy in village areas where Route 26 passes through that both sides of the road are provided with granite curbs. When this occurs all street parking is completely eliminated. You can see this in Greenwood between the intersection of the Gore Road and the East Bethel Road. Access to businesses, residences, and other buildings would be more limited than at present.

The next areas to be considered are the ball fields and the springs. It would appear that at the springs there is a possible solution by widening the road on the east side and providing additional parking both before and after the site. At the ball fields I do not know what might be done to completely remove the hazards. To reduce them by providing a wider parking space on the east side of the road to allow the cars to be parked further away from the moving vehicles would certainly help. Beyond this additional signage and painted crosswalks would be helpful.

As can be seen, the changes to the village would alter in several ways the present village that we all enjoy.

A different view of the village will be presented in my next letter.

Briefly

Football deadline extended

BETHEL — The SAD44 School Board Monday approved a request from the ad hoc football committee to extend the deadline to reach a fundraising goal of $70,000 to bring football back to Telstar. The group was charged with raising $45,000 in cash and the rest in pledges by June 30. The deadline has been extended by 12 months. Wrote the committee, "It is the committee members' analysis that the stated objective is not currently met for several reasons, beginning with the committee members' inexperience in fund raising activities. There was, and still is a large learning curve on the assessment, planning and execution necessary in a successful fund raising campaign. Other reasons we have not fully met our objective include the small committee membership and a perceived undercurrent within the school and business community that the committee's work is only a token effort and it will not succeed. There are also some citizens in the SAD44 community who sincerely believe that resources to support the start-up of football will lead to the demise of the established soccer program; a belief that is not shared by any member of the ad hoc committee, nor supported by any data. This dynamic within the community is particularly frustrating for us as a committee because it is an attitude that will lead to self-fulfilling prophecy. Perhaps the most significant reason the $45,000 cash objective is not yet met is time. In a very short amount of time, the committee has learned that it takes time to research and network fund raising and philanthropic opportunities to produce significant support."

Tri-Town waste contract extended

NEWRY — Selectmen last week voted to extend the current agreement with the Tri-Town Solid Waste for six months. That would allow Newry more time to study other possibilities for waste disposal. Charlie Bean, who raised the issue at Town Meeting in March, has been looking into other trash collection options. He said he did not believe door-to-door collection is viable, because most trash contractors would not want to travel many of Newry's steep private roads. "I believe door-to-door is a dead issue," he said. Bean suggested exploring the possibility of establishing Newry's own transfer station. "Then we'd have control and not pay for someone else's trash," he said. But selectmen Jim Largess and Steve Wight disagreed. "Having three towns do the same thing doesn't make sense," said Largess. "Control is the issue. Before we talk about doing our own (station), we should talk about control." Wight suggested that selectmen might attend meetings of the transfer station boards more often. "Our best bet is to work with the other towns," he said.

Combined CEO proposed

WOODSTOCK — Officials from Woodstock, Greenwood and Hanover will meet July 5 to discuss the possibility of sharing a full-time code enforcement officer. John Gauthier, who currently serves in that capacity in Woodstock and Greenwood, would likely be offered the position, if it were established, Woodstock Town Manager Vern Maxfield said. Gauthier is licensed as both a CEO and a plumbing inspector. The proposal also includes benefits. The meeting will take place at 6:30 p.m. at the Woodstock Town Office.

Sunday River watershed meeting

NEWRY — The public is invited to a meeting to discuss current and future restoration plans for the Sunday River, Tuesday, June 28, at the Sunday River Inn in Newry. The meeting starts at 10 a.m. and goes until noon. The meeting is sponsored by the town of Newry and the Maine Department of Environmental Protection. Starting in the 1990s, Sunday River residents voiced growing concerns about increased stream bank erosion and new channel cutting, and the declining fishery. Residents, local businesses, town and county officials, and state personnel conducted surveys in the Sunday River Watershed in 2000 and 2002. Widespread erosion was determined to be a major culprit in destabilizing the river. The surveys led to cooperative erosion control work by a variety of partners. Also, Parish Geomorphic, a Canadian company, was brought in to conduct a detailed river assessment in 2003. Since 2003, there has been a lull in restoration activities. The June 28 meeting will bring together the major players — watershed residents, local businesses, town officials, the soil and water conservation district, state personnel — to discuss regaining, and sustaining, momentum to restore the Sunday River Watershed. Items on the June 28 agenda include the timeline for erosion control efforts, and plans for large-scale stream restoration activities. Attendees will brainstorm ways to keep the momentum going. The meeting is scheduled to end at noon, but informal discussions may last longer. Participants might want to bring a lunch. FMI: call Jeff Stern at 583-2723 or e-mail him at jstern@prexar.com.

Harrington leaving NFD

NEWRY — Randy Harrington, assistant fire chief in Newry, recently submitted his resignation to selectmen, effective the first scheduled meeting in January 2006. Harrington said he needs more time with his family. He served with the department for 15 years. "The decision to retire was tough and by all means not an easy decision for me to make, after having spent the last 15 years making friendships that will last forever," he wrote.

times lead to the discovery of more serious offenses, such as operating after suspension or possession of illegal drugs or firearms.

"Bethel is a place people want to come to, and that's the way I want to keep it," he said.

Carr said anyone with questions about enforcement should feel free to talk to him.

He also said his department stresses "voluntary" compliance with traffic laws, by simply being visible on the roads in the cruisers.

Seat belt enforcement

More BPD officers than usual were on the road during the two weeks at the end of May and the beginning of June, as the Bethel police participated in a nationwide effort to encourage drivers to use their seat belts.

"That was not a normal flow of police work," said Carr.

And because Maine law states that a seat belt violation is not in itself sufficient reason for police to stop a vehicle, officers had to stop drivers for another violation first.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration provided funds for more police patrols during that time.

During the two-week period, said Carr, the BPD had 266 contacts with motorists. Of those, 202 drivers were from out of town.

Six stops resulted in tickets for not using a belt. There were 20 seat belt warnings, he said.

There were also 168 warnings for other violations.

Slower in Mayville

At last week's selectmen's meeting, Howe praised the police for taking a tough approach with drunk drivers, and said he generally supported the department.

Selectman Don Bennett also said one resident had commented to him about the police being out in force during the seat belt patrol period, but the person added, "I'm taking it easy over through Mayville now. They aren't going to catch me speeding through there."

"Something worked pretty well," said Bennett.

The Telstar baseball team also defeated a higher-ranked opponent on Saturday. The third-ranked Rebels knocked off second-ranked Monmouth 7-5 in Monmouth.

August Reiss had three hits, and Nate Walker got the win on the mound.

Telstar was scheduled to play top-ranked St. Dom's for the championship Wednesday at 7 p.m.

currencies we exist today. So even if you do wake up really early and it makes you bitter, you can still be happy that you are alive. We originated from random groupings of elements.

"It should humble all of us. It did not have to happen. This is why we should be happy to be alive, happy to see and enjoy the things we experience, however small."

Emerson told his classmates, "Today, we graduate. High school will no longer be a part of our present, and perhaps someday when we are old we will call these the best years of our lives. But hopefully not; hopefully we will continue to grow and develop, still having our best years ahead of us. What happens from now on is completely up to you — any person can be successful with diligence and some luck. Take chances when you have the opportunity, but educated chances."

Thomas Scotti, Jessica James and Riley Gilbert then offered "Reflections," remembering some of the humorous and memorable moments of the class members' years together, including "TV Turn-off Week," "poker games" at Ross's, and bomb threats at Telstar while they were in middle school.

The class then sang the selection "Freebird," and several class members played guitar and drums.

Becky Cummings, chair of the SAD44 School Board, offered congratulatory remarks, Superintendent David Murphy, Ed.D., certified the graduates.

Lambert then presented the diplomas.

In keeping with longtime tradition, each class member presented the principal with the same "gift" as he handed them a diploma. This year Lambert had a string of beads placed around his neck by each graduate.

Lacey Gammon and Krystal Hadley then gave the farewell, quoting from the book, "Oh, the Places You'll Go," by Dr. Seuss.

Charles Raymond, dean of students, closed the commencement ceremony.

Afterward, many of the graduates took part in Project Graduation activities, including a trip to the Oxford Plains Fun Park, swimming at the Riverview Resort in Bethel, and activities at Telstar High School.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

My grandson Reese visited the other day and said, "Mimi, guess what?" "Gee Reese, I don't know, you graduated from high school and have been accepted to Harvard?" "Mimi, that's silly, I'm only 9, guess again." "Okay," I said. "You came here to do all my house cleaning."

"No Mimi, I've been swimming five times and school isn't even out yet!" Reese was very proud of that fact. "And, we're going again after Dad mows the lawn. He promised."

I had forgotten how obsessed kids get about going swimming. It brought back memories of my two when they were little. It was constant whining that started the first time the temperature hit 70 degrees.

As soon as I came through the door after a long, hard day at work, "Can we go swimming, please, please?" First thing in the morning on Saturday and Sunday, "Can we go swimming, please, please?" The last thing at night before they went to bed, "Can we go swimming tomorrow, please, please, please?"

Kids have no concept that you, the parent, has other things to do. They just don't understand that you can't drop everything to take them to the beach. They're willing to shut off cartoons and video games or put their toys aside, so why can't you forget about the dirty dishes or laundry?

I'm sure my kids got very tired of hearing, "maybe," "we'll see," "later". I did try the direct approach of "No" and that always led to a day of pouting and whining. If I was definitive and said, "At 3:00 we'll go swimming," then I heard "Is it time to go yet?"

It's not like they never got to go. There were many, many trips to the beach. A lot of short trips to the local lake and many all-day excursions to the ocean. The kids just couldn't get enough.

Hot, cold, rain or shine, it didn't matter. As long as it was not snowing they would want to go swimming.

Once we got there I have to admit that we all had a great time. The trips back home were much more peaceful once the kids got over fighting over who would sit where and how much space it would require. Those fights didn't last too long because they generally fell asleep within a few miles of the ocean.

When we arrived home we might be able to wake the kids and steer them in the right direction. Most of the time we had to carry them to their beds and attempt to undress them and remove as much sand as possible.

Then everything else, including the collection of seashells, starfish, sand dollars, seaweed and anything else found at the ocean must be brought in and put away. These were fun but exhausting excursions.

The next morning the kids would get up happy as clams about their day at the ocean and excited about their sea-shell collections, but the first thing out of their little mouths was, "Can we go swimming today?"

And don't think for a minute that weather was ever an issue. Hot, cold, rain or shine, it didn't matter. As long as it was not snowing they would want to go swimming.

When they got a little older it became who in their class would get to go swimming first. This seemed to be some kind of contest among the kids like it was some kind of badge of honor to be the first to endure the frigid waters of the local lake.

If the ice was out of the lake and it was a warm day even though it may still be April, I could be sure one of the kids would ask, "Can I go swimming?" The answer was always a big "NO," but I know when my son was old enough he went anyway.

Kids will never admit to being cold. I can't tell you how many times I would tell them to get out of the water because they were cold. Blue lips and gigantic goose bumps and they still wouldn't admit to being cold.

I'm sure I was no different as a kid, but I don't remember it. I do, however, remember very clearly how my kids drove me crazy day after summer day to go gosh darn swimming.

So, when Reese told me with great pride about the number of times he had gone swimming I told him I thought that was wonderful. In fact, I told him I thought it would be a great idea if he asked to go to the ocean when he got home. I said I was sure his mother would love to take him and his brother because the way I saw it, she really deserved a nice, long day at the beach too.

low during the hot part of the day. He has been working on getting his garden planted.

I had a call from Celia Ficken, newest resident on the Bog Road, the other day. She and her husband are settling in at the property recently owned by Steve and Elise Caswell. They have been moving up from New York over the past few months. Her horses have arrived and are settling in along with the dogs and cats. Celia has just recently finished a certified home inspector course and is anxious to get her own business up and running. I believe the name is On the Level Home Inspection, LLC.

Selectmen's Office

I received word (too late for last week's column) from the Selectmen's Office that the date for the Special Meeting scheduled for June 15 had been changed to June 22. The selectmen also want the residents to know that on June 24, John E. O'Donnell Associates will be in town to do some work on updating the tax maps. They will be visiting property owners that have made changes or are new to Gilead. The cards at the town office, that have all of the tax information on town property, are all in need of being redone.

Gilead Historical Society
Hugh and I went to the Oxford County Bicentennial Celebration on Saturday, June 11, on Paris Hill. There were several historical societies from the surrounding area set up in the Academy building. We shared a table with the Bethel Historical Society. The equestrian parade came up Paris Hill to the church where the speeches were given. The historical displays were open to the public from noon to 3 p.m. Bill and Gale Tou stopped by to help staff the table and talk to the visitors. Several people stopped by with questions and some had information they wanted to pass on. I got to meet Helen Heath, a relative on my mother's side. She is a member of the historical society in West Paris (The Finnish-American Heritage Society of Maine) and also of the Gilead Historical Society. Another GHS member, Heide Munro, stopped by in the afternoon to see how things were going.

The next event for the GHS is the Newry Bicentennial on July 9.

My son, Dean, brought his family here for a few days over the Memorial Day weekend. He and wife, Samantha (Sam), have nine-year-old twins who are about as different as two kids can be.

Amanda is a little on the heavy side and loves to eat, particularly mashed potatoes and almost anything with them. Ryan is slim and doesn't eat much of anything but hot dogs and snacks. Amanda is appreciative and loves the dolls and doll clothes that Mona made for her; she wanted Mona to show her how to make the dolls and even sent a thank-you note afterward. Ryan likes boy stuff — model rockets, bicycles, ball games and the like.

One day while we were all eating at a restaurant in Bar Harbor, Ryan was talking about the things he wanted for his next birthday: a sword, a pocketknife and a double-bladed axe! His parents patiently explained why he still did not have these items, and would not until he matured enough to deserve them.

Ryan had been taking karate lessons and was one step from earning a black belt, when he quit. Dean and Sam had promised that he could have a nice sword in a display case to be displayed on his bedroom wall if he earned his black belt. Then, Ryan was in Cub Scouts and wanted a pocketknife, which he could have if he learned the six rules of safely handling a knife — which he has not done yet.

And the "double-bladed axe"? He was told that not even lumberjacks use them any more because they are so dangerous. Ryan was not convinced.

Brother Rupert went into the Norway Hospital (Portland surgeon) last week to have hip replacement surgery to "replace" the hardware in his right hip that was installed about 15 years ago. The old "hardware" was worn out and had been giving him a lot of pain lately.

Although dreading the surgery, he and Ina were both in favor of the operation in the hopes of alleviating the pain, even if he might not walk very well afterward. The operation proved to be a success, and Rupert was home again on Friday, only three days after the surgery.

Saturday evening, Mona and I dropped in to see how he was progressing and were surprised to see that he wanted to play a "few hands of cards." He was still going strong at 10 p.m. He maintains that he is having no pain in either QUILT RAFFLE—The Cross Country Quilters of Bethel have crafted this quilt that will be raffled to benefit Bethel's Middle Intervale Meeting House. The raffle will take place at the annual Quilt Show, held at the Meeting House on the Intervale Road June 24 and 25 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. For more information call 836-2918 or e-mail cfcrcat@adelphia.net. the hip or the right leg, which had been so painful before the surgery.

He is getting around the house with the help of a walker, otherwise unaided. He has been through it before and does his own physical therapy, making numerous trips up and down the hall daily. We'll probably see him out hunting this fall!

Hanover

Steve Penney died in a Kennebunk nursing home last Friday.

He was 59 and had been in declining health for some time. Steve grew up in Hanover along the Howard Pond Road. He was the son of Willis and Katherine Penney. When he was grown, Steve lived and raised his family in South Paris where he was located until several years ago. He had moved to Kittery to be nearer his family. His funeral was last Monday. We extend sympathy to his family.

Congratulations to the area residents that graduated with the Class of 2005. Included were: Kayla Brown, Brock Merrill, Page Daye, Jerome Barlow, Jessica James, Winston Booth and Jeremy Sterling.

Now the Barb and Irv Robinson update for this week — The Robinsons have bicycled to Niagara Falls. We do not think a trip over the falls is planned.

What do you do if a bear comes to visit in the middle of the night? Marie Halacy says to talk to it. That's what she did recently when the bear stepped onto the back porch of her Baby Brook Lane home. The bear was not impressed with the eye-to-eye contact and made off for the brush only to return a few minutes later to finish his midnight snack that he had found in the trashcan. Only thing, that time Marie had her window closed.

Bear sightings have been common lately with the old boy also visiting homes along Main Street and the Howard Pond Road. Torn-down birdfeeders seem to be a favorite for snacking. It is recommended that bird food, pet food and garbage be stored inside at night away from temptation.

In other animal news, Honey, that famous Hanover pit bull that has been known to jump out of second-floor windows, managed to embarrass herself. When the weather turned hot and humid, she decided it was cooler under the workshop, so under she went. Only thing was she forgot how to get out. Only her snout would fit the hole. A shovel enlarged the hole, and Honey decided it was cooler in the house with the air conditioner on.

Andover

by Melinda Averill

Wow! What a hot week! It's better than snow any day in my book.

Congratulations to Pastor and Mrs. John O. Keefe, of the Calvary Bible Church at South Andover; they are the proud parents of an 8 pound, 3 ounce baby boy. John Jacob was born in Lewiston on June 6. He joins two sisters and a brother.

The Andover boys' Little League had a good game last Thursday against Peru. The team all had some nice hits, including first-year players Carson McKay, Josh Farrington and Hunter Gray. Izaak Mills had two home runs. Daniel Vaughn played excellent defense, and Carson made his pitching debut in the last inning.

Happy Anniversary to Norma and Freeman Farrington, who were married 50 years ago on June 11.

Hikers are starting to arrive at "The Cabin" in East Andover. Many have started hiking in Georgia. Mr. Towne meets them on East B Hill and Mrs. Towne always has a home-cooked meal ready.

Marge Stinson and her daughter, Donna-Joy, entertained the East Andover Community Club at the Calvary Bible Church dining room on June 13.

It was a busy time in town over the weekend. Besides the Telstar graduation there were two funerals, one for Althea and Roger Milton at the cemetery and the other for Ethelene Silver Merrill at the Calvary Bible Church, both scheduled for 11 a.m.

A surprise bridal shower was given to Suzann Richardson, daughter of Joe and Peg Madigan, on Sunday, June 12 at her Aunt Peggy-Sue's home in Rumford. It was a beautiful day for a poolside shower, with temps in the 80s. Guests came from Bethel, Windsor, Augusta, South Portland, and Bangor. Guests attending from away were: her cousin Deannah Zeilinski from Canada N.H.; Aunt Karen Vachon from Brookfield N.H.; Tanya Delbane from Connecticut; and family friends Denise and Heidi from North Andover, Mass.

Get well wishes to Karen McKay, who underwent surgery last week.

Sunday afternoon we attended my daughter's dance recital at Gould Academy. Even though it was a warm day, the dancing was very, very good. Miss Bridget does a terrific job with her dance girls. Ciara Gray, daughter of Dave and Maiki Gray, Andover, also dances for Bridget.

There's only a couple more days of school left with Tuesday the last day.

Monday evening, June 20, is Fifth Grade Class Night, starting at 6:30. It is Andover School's night to celebrate the fifth-graders and bid them farewell as they prepare to enter Telstar Middle School in the fall.

Have a nice weekend.

West Bethel

by Lorrie Hoeh

We are experiencing "empty nest syndrome" at the Hohstetler.

Literally. The phoebe babies fledged sometime early Sunday morning. On Saturday, we watched as the three adolescents teetered on the edge of the nest platform and jockeyed for space while they waited for mom and dad to arrive with edibles. And now they're gone. We still hear lots of singing and hope that the adults will decide to have another brood for us to watch.

The wild cherries are loaded with blossoms. If it all turns to fruit, the branches will be hanging down to the ground. This seems to be a year when everything is blooming and growing bountifully. There are twice as many ladyslippers as I can remember ever seeing; the new growth on the balsams is several inches long; and one can almost see the corn growing by an inch a day.

Mike sees at least one hen turkey with her chicks every morning while walking with Jake. They're still too small to fly, which makes them easy prey for coyotes and other four-footed critters, not to mention the ones with wings. Speaking of coyotes, Jake chased one last Friday morning. He chases just until whatever it is gets off the road and into the woods. He did the same thing with a young moose last week.

Jane Hosterman recently visited her daughter Susie in Massachusetts, with the goal of delivering a batch of extra seedlings she had grown. While she was there, son Richie called to say he had tickets to a Red Sox game at Fenway Park — would Mom like to go?

At least it isn't 95 in the shade anymore — at least not for today. The rain will mean that Jane allowed that the last time she'd been to Fenway to see the Sox play was with Dick, before they were married, and they sat in the bleachers. Yes, she did want to go, and this time the seats were behind home plate. Not only did Jane have a chance to ride the "T" for the first time in eons, the Red Sox won!

There was a talk given recently at the Bethel Historical Society by Larry Glatz, chair of the Oxford County Bicentennial Celebration. He spoke of why Oxford County residents were called the Oxford Bears. Seems it was meant as a put-down of these country "yokels" by the Tories down in Massachusetts. Too bad the Tories didn't realize that Mainers actually like being called black bears, so much so that their university adopted the name for its athletic teams.

Another sojourn Jane H. made not long ago was to visit a college roommate, Lucille Naas, in South Paris. The two old friends (of 63 years' standing) attended a performance of Sweet Adelines at the Poland Spring Inn and had dinner in the dining room. Jane and Lucille were graduated from their Simmons College five-year nursing/B.S. program in 1945.

We're told that more rain is coming our way this week, along with high humidity. I'm looking forward to some dry weather for a change. It would be nice to hang out laundry and actually get it dry. Stay cool and have a good week.

Hope everyone is catching the great yard sales. We miss them because we work Saturdays. One of these days I'll take a break and attend one. For now, I have everything I need so I do not need to go to a yard sale.

Greener Earth is still taking many of the items from the transfer station for resale. The money goes back to the town to help defray the cost of running the station. It does not, as someone suggested, go to someone in Lewiston.

Weekly, we were throwing away much of what came in because we had no place to keep it overnight. That is not only wasteful, but it costs the town money. This way, we can make money and save on we are wet at work, but it will be a slight relief. Summer is upon us.

This Thursday, the 16th, the Waterford-Stoneham Lions Club will be meeting at 6 p.m. at Camp Susan Curtis. It will be a community supper. The meeting will follow in the lounge at 6:45 or 7 p.m.

Friday, the 17th, starts the American Lung Association Trek Across Maine — Sunday River to the Sea. I always thought I'd do that someday. Now I'm not sure. One never knows. For more information about the trek, call (800) 499-5864.

Monday, the 20th, there is a walk on the Bethel Parkway with environmental specialist Jackie Cressy. She will give a talk on native and non-native plants along the path.

It is sponsored by Western Mountains Senior College. FMI: call 824-0508.

Hope everyone is catching the great yard sales. We miss them because we work Saturdays. One of these days I'll take a break and attend one. For now, I have everything I need so I do not need to go to a yard sale.

That is all for this week. Have a great week.

We are never satisfied with the weather. From a cold, rainy spring the temperature has heated up to 90 degrees for several days. We had no preparation of a gradual warming.

Joseph and Peggy Perham enjoyed the weekend at Colby College to attend his 50th class reunion. The trees on campus were in full bloom and all were beautiful. Joe was busy for he spoke to the class of 65 and also conducted a Memorial Service at Lorimer Chapel for departed classmates.

Cynthia and Sayward Lamb spent two weeks fishing at Nesowadrehunk.

Beverly and Vince Stevens and Georgia Thayer were at Wilson's Mills camping for a few days last week.

The weather was nice for a change.

On June 19 at the West Paris Universalist Church, Jim Burke, church organist, will lead the service. Coffee hour follows. All are welcome. This is the last service before summer recess.

On June 16 at 10 a.m., Sayward Lamb will be the guest speaker at the Whitman Memorial Library in Bryant Pond. He will show and talk about his wood carvings. All are welcome and it is free.

The West Paris Historical Society will meet on Monday, June 20, at the historical building at 6 p.m. for a potluck supper. A business meeting follows. Joyce Lamb will be the speaker and talk of her trip to London.

Buffy did seem to enjoy the soft rains and would sit out in it, but the hot weather is too much for him for he goes out for a very short time and wants to come straight back in.

Aisha will be working at the Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston for her internship.

The Stoneham Planning Board met at the Town Office last Wednesday night, June 8, to act upon a few applications. There were six members present.

Birthday, Loretta, and I hope you will soon be home.

On Sunday, June 5, I attended a party at the Olive Garden in South Portland. This was put on for Aisha Traish, who just became a medical doctor. She graduated from medical school in Boston on May 22. She studied and worked awfully hard for this and deserved a party. There were 22 of us there in a nice little alcove room (just right for us) and the waiters were great and the food was perfect. It was nice seeing Christine Nelson and Jeannie Allen Nelson.

Cheryl Barnard and Jenna and Lindsey were here over the weekend from Virginia and Sharon and Howard Bertram and Nowal from Massachusetts. What a fun time we all had. Cheryl and the girls stayed over at Evergreen Valley Inn for two nights, and on their coming and goings over there they saw the moose lots of times and were quite excited about that.

Kathy Thrall recently opened The Quilt Shop at the location of her other business, The Inn at the Rostay, on Route 2 in Bethel. Thrall offers quilting fabric, supplies, notions, thread, books and patterns. Classes and quilters weekends are planned for the near future. The entrance to the shop is located at the back of the main building. Hours are Monday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and by appointment. (824-3111)

Council. This was a four-year position. He also participated in Student Government as class representative, resident assistant as hall president and secretary, Amnesty International Macon Outdoors and a member of the Yellow Jackets Division III baseball team for three years. Chad is a member of the Kappa Sigma and Alpha Phi Omega fraternities.

Being an international relations major, Chad has been fortunate to study abroad at Wroxton College in England, Bond University in Queensland, Australia and he also attended a traveling course beginning in Istanbul, Turkey. In addition to his studies and service work, he has been employed in the Study Abroad at Randolph Macon.

Chad has accepted a two-year position as a regional area manager with Kappa Sigma Fraternity Foundation. He will be visiting colleges from Canada to Virginia with its headquarters in Charlottesville, Va.

Chad is the son of Perry and Anna Ryerson of Wayne and has one brother, Kyle. He is the paternal grandson of Cleo and the late Emery Ryerson of South Woodstock and the maternal grandson of the late Anna Balcom and the late George and Helen Balcom. Chad is a 2001 graduate from Maranacook Community School.

Cleo Ryerson went to Chad's graduation with Perry and Anna Ryerson and had a wonderful time.

Jeff Littlehale is working for Dave Everett on construction. I was sorry to see Ted Braden's death in the paper. He was a very industrious and good man and had a long life. He will be missed by his family and many friends.

There will not be any Tai Chi sessions at the Woodstock library until further notice.

Larry Billings, curator of Woodstock Historical Society, reports that he attended the West Paris Universalist Church and heard a sermon by the Rev. Joy Gasta before she leaves after 10 years of service.

Services at the Baptist Church are Sunday School at 9:15 a.m.; morning worship at 10:30 a.m.; choir practice at 5 p.m.; evening service at 6 p.m. Wednesday evening at 6:30 p.m. is prayer meeting, Thursday is ladies prayer time at 9 a.m.; Saturday, June 18 at 5 p.m. is men's banquet put on by the ladies.

Franklin Grange 124 held their meeting on Monday evening with 13 members and two guests present. Deputy Laura Hutchins was welcomed. The Grange Fair is coming up on July 16. There will be food, lunch, Christmas in July, rented tables where people sell their own things, grab bags, things for the children, music by Richard Felt Band outdoors. In tune with the 130 years of the Grange, this will be similar to the old-time Grange fairs. Please plan to attend and join the fun.

Election of officers was held and a Memorial program as follows: opening thought: do unto others as you would have them do unto you; opening song: "This is My Father's World"; service at the altar for deceased members; placing flowers on the altar and The Lord's Prayer; song: "Nearer My God to Thee"; poem that Olive Davis once wrote "Forever Grangers";

music: Dot Canwell, Yvonne Nowlin, Richard Felt and Fred Breame; mystery march; closing thought: Thank God for our family and friends; closing song: "God Be with You."

Next meeting is June 20; program: School Days.

The Woodstock Senior Citizens will hold a sale on Saturday, June 25, at the Grange Hall. Lunch, white elephants, rented tables for people to sell their own things from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Donations welcome.

The Woodstock Historical Society Museum is a great facility. Its exhibits, art gallery, research library and museum store all combine to make it a success. You will find a bit of everything there. The museum features an attractive knotty pine interior. It's a great backdrop for the exhibits. Annella Burnham planted the urn in front of the museum and the House's put up the museum sign. Larry Billings put a large bouquet of artificial flowers in the museum and removed the old ones.

Kathleen Bean, Arlene MacKillop and Curator Larry Billings watched the museum on opening day. One visitor came in. Curtis A. Millner and Nancy Willard donated items to the society.

Curator Larry Billings got a nice planter full of flowers to put out at the museum, from the Koronen's. Thanks to Larry and Annella for the flowers. Visit the museum on Saturdays from 1 to 4 p.m., attend a meeting the second Saturday of each month.

The Billings family put out flowers at the cemeteries on Memorial weekend. Curator Larry put his Christmas cactus out on the porch. They do well that way in the summer. Larry found some exhibits on royalty and got some beautiful reproduction tiaras.

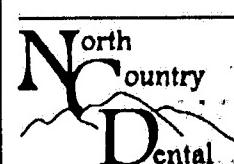

Paul Billings and Joyce Howe represented the Historical Society at the Oxford County Bicentennial celebration on Paris Hill. Vicki Billings will be with her daughter, Tabitha, in Massachusetts who just had an 8 pound, 8 ounce baby girl.

The Historical Society will hold a sale and flea market at the Museum on Saturday, July 16.

Mahoosuc Kids Association SUMMER PROGRAMS

Summer Adventure Program:

June 27-August 19 • Grades K-5

8 weeks of themed adventure and enrichments, including swimming, cooking, gardening, and games. Field trips.

Medieval Defense Camp:

July 5-8 • Cost: $30 • Grades 6-8

This program will offer youth a chance to do some problem solving as they try to design a catapult and trebuchet to launch squash and water balloons. They will also learn basic archery, and play with pugil sticks in a medieval game of unbalancing your opponent. In addition, they will also create their own shield. We will team up with Project Youth.

Triathlon: Bike/Canoe/Hike:

July 11-13 • Cost: $30 • Grades 6-8

Bike helmet is necessary for bike trips. This program offers students a chance to explore the Bethel area by water, roads and mountains. We will team up with the Source to Sea Canoe Trek to paddle down the Androscoggin. Our bike trips will take us in and around Bethel as we find water holes to swim in and ice cream to cool off with. We will tackle a local mountain for a hike. Come for just one activity or complete them all.

Carnival Camp:

July 18-20 • Cost: $25 • Grades 6-8

This program will give students a taste of circus life as they build and learn to walk on stilts, master scarf juggling, bubble making, hula hoop dancing, tumbling, face painting, balloon animals, and unicycle riding. Students will take home their stilts. Activities will take place in Shelburne, NH in conjunction with the Project Youth students.

Road Rules:

July 26-28 • Cost: $10 • Grades 6-8

This program is based loosely on the MTV show. Students are given clues to get to planned destinations. Once they get the clue, they earn points. They then must direct staff to the destination upon which they will then perform a mission. If they achieve their mission, they will earn more points. The points will go toward a fun prize. Participants learn to work together to solve the puzzles.

Boy, has it been hot! Fay and Leonas Holt are both feeling good. Leonas is recovering well from his operation. Bob was there Memorial Weekend and took them to the cemeteries. Ann and David were there Sunday to visit.

Mary is going to Boston weekly to see her eye doctor. Ann has been busy at school; she is all done July 1.

Brad has been having trouble with his knee. I hope he doesn't need an operation.

We haven't seen the fox and her little ones lately. Maybe it's because it is so hot.

Wayne and Anita have been busy with class reunion, and they went to a 50th anniversary party for their friend. Anita made the cake.

Rena is home at Albert and Marie's. Their children have been here to visit.

Lillian and Glenn were here Sunday to visit.

Rena had a doctor's appointment in Norway on Monday.

The Booster Club drawing was Saturday. Some new members' names got drawn, which is good.

Karl Olson graduated from Gould Academy on June 4.

Jason Tyler graduated from Telstar Regional High School on June 10. Congratulations to all graduates of high school.

There was no Grange meeting on June 10, as too many people would not be in attendance. The meeting will be on June 24 at the hall with a 6:30 p.m. potluck supper and the meeting at 7:30 p.m.

Daisy Coolidge and Charlene Haines were baptized at their church on June 5 with members of their families present.

Peter Mason and son, Kurt, of West Bethel visited Daisy Coolidge on June 12.

Rosie Wentworth of Kennebunk visited at the Bartlett Homestead recently for a few days.

The Grange supper schedule is as follows: June 25, baked beans and casseroles; July 30, baked beans and casseroles; Aug. 20, baked beans and casseroles; Sept. 17, baked chicken breast; Oct. 8, ham harvest supper; Oct. 22, beef stew; Nov. 12, turkey. All suppers will have salads and pies. The suppers will start at 5 p.m. and adults will be $6 and under 13 will be $3.

The Grange will have a dessert booth at Molyockett Day with strawberry shortcake and other homemade goodies.

Also, on Sept. 17, the Grange will be selling coffee, tea, cold drinks and donuts for the "Barn Again" tour in the area and the exhibit at the Robinson House in town. There will also be a barn dance somewhere in the Bethel area that evening. The Oct. 8 supper will also have a humorist upstairs for a short program.

I hope everyone survived the humidity this past week. Have a good week. God Bless the Troops.

Once again summer is ahead and the Bethel Historical Society is seeking sponsors for the Portland Brass Quintet, which will be performing at a two-hour concert at the July 4 community picnic. This will be held at noon on Monday, July 4, on the grounds of the Dr. Moses Mason House. The event is free and all those attending are encouraged to bring a picnic lunch to enjoy during the concert.

On Sudbury Canada Days, Aug. 12-14, a number of 18th century re-enactors will be present to provide insights into life in the colonial period of New England history — during the French and Indian wars and the battle for American independence. Not only will there be soldiers, but also craftspeople and artisans are expected to be present as well. This will heighten the historical experience of this popular summer heritage festival held each year at this time.

donation in any amount to support these two events is invited to do so by sending a gift to the society at P.O. Box 12, Bethel, ME 04217-0012. All sponsors will be listed during the event and all donations are tax deductible as allowable by law.

Larry Glatz, chair of the Oxford County Bicentennial Celebration, was the featured speaker at the Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center on June 9 discussing the Oxford Bear, which for many years was a recognized symbol of the county.

In his remarks, delivered at the Dr. Moses Mason House Meeting Room, Glatz traced the origins of the "Bear" back to the middle of the 19th century. Residents of this county took what was supposed to be a slur on its inhabitants as "just a bunch of farmers and loggers with little education or sophistication" and turned it into a badge of honor. Even Hannibal Hamlin, Lincoln's vice president, announced that he was proud to be an Oxford Bear.

Reunions of former Oxford County residents were held in several locations throughout the state and in various towns within the county. Products from Oxford County featured the bear logo and even political campaigns were enhanced by a bear's appearance on signs and literature. For practical purposes, the bear as a symbol of Oxford County disappeared by the time of World War II. The last vestige of this symbol was lost when the Knights of Pythias hall in Hanover closed several years ago.

On June 10, 11, and 12, Oxford County celebrated its bicentenary with a series of events held at Paris Hill, the old county seat dating from 1805. Lectures by Earle Shettleworth, the state historian; University of Maine professor Martha McNamara; University of Southern Maine Emeritus Professor Draper Hunt; and Bicentennial chair Larry Glatz were heard and added much to the event. There was a parade, 18th century re-enactors and artisans, tours, exhibits and a dedication of a bicentennial tablet.

Much appreciation is expressed to Judy Haskell, Amy Davis, Sylvia Clanton and June Abbott for assisting with the Bethel Historical Society booth in Academy Hall during the festivities.

From the Bethel Library

On June 4, under bright skies, the Bethel Library held its annual plant sale. Always an enjoyable event of sharing that brings both botanical givers and gardener buyers together, the entire inventory was sold out in 35 minutes flat. While dollars are still being counted, early indications are that this year's sale will approach, even exceed last year's $1,500. Proceeds support the purchase of new books.

The trustees are pleased to announce that, thanks to a thoughtful and generous gift from Mary Lou and Jim Fiske, the library's first floor will be air-conditioned this summer. This welcome addition marks an end to wilting librarians and gasping patrons.

New landscaping graces the front and side of the library. The plantings have been made available by the gifts of family members and friends to the Ruth W. Wight Memorial Fund. In addition, the Wight Fund has allowed the purchase of a new Timberlake rocker for the children's section. Now visiting mothers can have a seat while their kids explore the collection.

The library's annual Children's Summer Reading Program begins on June 22. All participants are encouraged to sign up early and commence reading. Those who complete an age-appropriate number of books will be invited to attend the program's surprise field trip in August.

To date, the library's Annual Fund has received 193 gifts totaling $14,511. Only $489 to go, before June 30, to achieve our $15,000 goal. The dollars support new acquisitions for both the adult and children's collections as well as building maintenance and general operations.

Grateful thanks to the following donors whose gifts were received during the period Jan. 1, 2005 to May 31, 2005: Andee and Doug Alford; Lynn and Joe Arizzi; Elizabeth Bane; Urban and Dorothy Bartlett; Musa Brown; Cheryl Burnham; Tom Carter; Steve and Lynda Chandler; Amy and Tony Chapman, in memory of Ruth W. Wight; Dutch and Elaine Dresser; Lincoln and Suzanne Fiske; Will and Marguerite Graham; Mary Haberman; Pauline Jordan; Ron and Marguerite Kendall; Mary and Earlon Keniston; Nesta Littlefield, in memory of Annie M. Gordon; Mike Maguire, in honor of Zoe and Sasha Maguire; James and Josephine Monahan, in memory of the Monahan and McMinn Families; Robert and Carolyn O'Brien; James and Marjorie Osgood, in memory of Helen C. Berry; Susan and Scott Parker, in memory of Linda Brown Foster; Sarah and Peter Southam; Natalie and Samuel Timberlake; Bill and Gale Tout; Jackie Van Leuven; Jerry and Shireen Vincent; Nancy and Bill White; Bradley and Brenda Wight; and Gloria Wilson, all of Bethel.

Kathleen Bean, Joan Hall, Peter and Mary-Ellen Gardner, all of Bryant Pond; Donald M. Christie, Jr., Gray; Carol and Richard Duplessis, Mason Township; Joan Baker, Newry; and Joy Yarnell, Upton; Christopher and Susan Tarr, Princeton, N.J.

Corporate donors: The Bethel Citizen; The Chapman Inn; Key Bank Foundation; Mead-Westvaco Foundation; Pat's Pizza of Bethel, in memory of Al Abbott; Western Maine Supply; and W.J. Wheeler & Company. Matching gifts from Fleet Boston and Key Bank Foundations. Two gifts designated by new customers of Norway Savings Bank's Reality Checking program.

The Annual Fund remains open until June 30, 2005. Gifts may be directed to the Bethel Library Association, P.O. Box 130, Bethel, ME 04217-0130.

SAFE ALL AROUND—Both the Telstar baseball and softball teams won in last week's Western Class C quarterfinal playoff games, held at home. Left, Telstar's Liz Rosenberg slides safely into third against Madison. Pitcher Jessie Farrington had five hits and struck out eight on the mound, while Jillian Kimball and Kayla Mills each had three hits in the 15-4 win. Above, the Rebels' Kevin Zinchuk slides safely into second on a steal against Old Orchard Beach. Below left, Telstar's Terry Collins fires in a pitch against OOB. Collins threw a one-hitter, August Reiss had a home run and Josh Longway had two hits in the 2-0 victory. The teams, who both went on to win semifinal playoff games against Jay (softball) and Monmouth (baseball), were scheduled to play yesterday (Wednesday) at St. Joseph's College for the Western Class C titles. □

From the Bethel Midsummer Festival/Summer Solstice

On Sunday, June 19, starting at noon, the fourth annual Midsummer Festival will take place in "The Meadow," one-half mile west of Bethel on Route 2.

Special activities for Father's Day include a presentation by the Neville Company who is part of the British Plate Armour Society. They will be wearing armour and demonstrating swordsmanship from the time of the War of the Roses. Highland Mary Morris Dancers will perform traditional dances of the British Isles, and there will be arts and crafts activities for all ages. Make a giant dreamcatcher or a personal dreamcatcher, a play-sword, fairy wings for costume decoration, flower garlands, or Tibetan prayer flags. Participate in a traditional "Midsummer Pole" maypole-like dance, fly a kite, play a drum in the drumming circle, walk a labyrinth, or join in other fun activities for the whole family.

This year the featured musical performer is acclaimed international new age/ambient musician, Conn St. Pierre. Her latest release was named the number one New Age Instrumental of 2003 by Wind and Wire, and her songs have charted in the top 10 New Age downloads in the U.S. and several European countries. Combining new age melodicism with a strong undercurrent of ambience, Conn will be playing flute, Celtic harp and keyboard, and feature songs from her "Legends Trilogy" CD releases. The All-Media guide calls her music "word-less poetry and cascading sound, an exhilarating listening experience."

The Midsummer Festival follows the Summer Solstice Sculpture "Race" Celebration, which will be held at noon, also at The Meadow. There is still time for sculpture creators to enter their creations. Entry forms and information are available on the Web at www.midsummerfestival.org. The festival is sponsored by Mahoosuc Arts Council and the Maine Community Foundation. All events are free, open to everyone, and handicapped accessible. A complete schedule of activities is listed on the website, or call 824-3246 or 824-3170 for more information. Area businesses and individuals are invited and encouraged to help sponsor this non-commercial festival. Sponsorship information is also available on the website.

From the Bethel Senior Citizens

The Bethel Senior Citizens Club met June 8 at Alder River Grange Hall in East Bethel for their luncheon and meeting with 30 members present. President Nancy Mercer conducted the meeting and led the salute to the flag. Reports were given by Colleen Boyd and Arlene Lowell.

The door prize was won by Rose Dyer and the raffle by Davene Mitchell.

The next meeting will be July 13 and members will meet at the Swimming Hole on the North Road at 11 a.m. for their meeting. Members will bring their picnic lunch.

Louise Twitchell read a humorous story.

The speaker was Sgt. Norman Lewis, who has been a game warden for 17 years. He gave a very interesting talk on the requirements for becoming a warden, what their duties are and other interesting facts about the laws. He also commented on the changes that had taken place over the years. A question and answer period followed his talk. Several members asked interesting questions.

June birthdays are Doris Fraser, Henry Robertson, Pauline Smith, Edeleen Winslow, Ruth Barrett, Charlotte Kimball and Nancy Driscoll.

From the Andover Alumni Association

On May 26, Andover/Telstar graduates and friends gathered at the Andover gym for a social hour, banquet and meeting, including awarding of many scholarships. There were 130 in attendance.

The punch bowl was handled by Beverly (Akers) Swan '58, prior to the banquet served by Sharon (Briggs) Farrington '77 and her crew, including underclassmen as waiters and waitresses.

Seated at the head table were President and Secretary Dorothy (Merrill) Roberts '48; Vice President Violet P. Swain; Treasurer Ronald White '48; The Rev. Jane Rich and Pastor John and Mrs. O'Keefe.

Of the 14 Andover/Telstar graduates, 10 attended including valedictorian Frank Emerson ('98.97); salutatorian, Matthew Mills ('97.30); third honor, Lauren Barletta and 10th honor, Andrew Farrington. He was one of a fourth-generation tradition group.

President Roberts awarded the Andover Alumni Math Awards — $50 to freshman Mark Emerson; sophomore Jennifer Learned; junior Stephen Scotti; and senior Lauren Barletta. The Science Award was given to Frank Emerson.

The Andover Friday Club Book Award for "desire, motivation and faithfulness" was given by Jane Rich to freshman Patrick Milligan; sophomore Toni Morin; junior Blake Conrad; senior Michael Brown.

The $50 Lila Farrington Memorial Scholarship awards were awarded to four top 10 in the Andover/Telstar 2005 class: 1. Frank Emerson; 2. Matthew Mills; 3. Lauren Barletta; 10. Andrew Farrington.

The East Andover Community Club Award of $150 for "leadership, school activities, cooperation, character and scholarship": Clayton Smith. The Allyson Hodson Memorial Award for "excellence in junior literature": Kayla Mills. Vice President Swain gave out the last three.

The Walter Fox Book Awards for "scholarship, faithfulness and conduct" given by librarian Janet Farrington to Grade 6, Sarah Averill; Grade 7, Andrew Jones; Grade 8, Candace Hall; freshman Mark Emerson; sophomore Jessica Putnam; junior Cynthia Farrington; senior Lacey Gammon.

The Remington $100 award for the second highest student: Michael Mills, given by Daniel Remington.

Andover Service Circle essay award: Michael Mills, $300, given by President Andrea Savitz.

Bill Dunn presented the Anna Thurston Memorial award of $1,000 to Michael Brown for his second year of college. Mr. Dunn is a cousin.

Gary Sweatt presented the Sweatt Family Memorial scholarship, four years: Jamie Fyrberg.

Jane Rich presented the John and Eunice Fox Memorial Scholarship of $2,000 to Lacey Gammon.

The Andover/Telstar members of the National Honor Society are sophomore Jennifer Learned; juniors, Blake Conrad, Cynthia Farrington and Kayla Mills; seniors, Lauren Barletta, Michael Brown, Frank Emerson, Lacey Gammon, Matthew Mills, and Clayton Smith.

Boys State delegate for 2005 at Maine Maritime Academy, Castine: Blake Conrad; Girls State delegate at Husson College, Bangor: Kayla Mills.

The oldest alumni attending were Cecelia (Swett) Adams and Harold Falkenham, Class of 1935.

Lauren Barletta 2005 sang "Angels" accompanied by Michael Brown on his guitar.

Nine door prizes were given out that were donated by local businesses and friends.

The Andover officers thank all who helped or gave so generously.

Annual Drinking Water Quality Report for 2004 BETHEL WATER DISTRICT

Bethel, ME
PWSID ME0090160

We're pleased to present to you our Annual Drinking Water Quality Report. This report, a requirement of the 1996 amendments to the Safe Drinking Water Act, is designed to inform you about the quality water and services we deliver to you every day. Our constant goal is to provide you with a safe and dependable supply of drinking water. We want you to understand the efforts we make to continually improve the water treatment process and protect our water resources. We are committed to ensuring the quality of your water.

WATER SOURCE

We screen the water twice before treating it with chlorine to protect from possible bacterial contaminants and add fluoride to promote dental health. It is then gravity fed to our 313 customers through 525 service connections. Our water has a waiver to filtration. We own 2,300 acres surrounding the source, we have developed and implemented a Watershed Control. It is designed to prevent contamination of our source.

SOURCE WATER ASSESSMENT

The Source Water Assessment includes lakes, ponds, and wells. As water travels over the surface of land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and radioactive material and can pick up substances resulting from human or animal activity. The Maine Drinking Water Program (DWP) has evaluated all public water supplies as part of the Source Water Assessment Program (SWAP). The assessments included geology, hydrology, land uses, water testing information, and the extent of land ownership or protection by local ordinance or state agency. The drinking water source is not being contaminated by human activity in this area. Assessment results are available at public water supplier, town offices, and the DWP. For more information about the SWAP, please contact the DWP at telephone 287-2070.

From

Maine Handicapped Skiing

Maine Handicapped Skiing, Maine's largest year-round adaptive recreation program for adults and children with physical disabilities, is offering a full season of exciting summer adaptive activities, including lessons in kayaking, canoeing, golf and cycling at various locations throughout Maine, all free of charge.

If you have a physical disability or know someone that does, please check out Maine Handicapped Skiing's summer roster of activities: cycling at Back Bay on Marginal Way, Portland; canoeing and kayaking at Range Pond State Park, Poland; river trips on the Androscoggin; and golf at Toddy Brook Golf Course, Yarmouth.

Maine Handicapped Skiing is a volunteer-based organization, 350+ strong, that provides adaptive sports activities to children and adults with physical disabilities so they can have a fun experience while learning new skills that will carry over into their everyday lives.

All sports taught at Maine Handicapped Skiing are adapted to the needs of our participants. At canoe and kayak lessons held at Range Pond State Park, participants learn proper entry and exit of boats, paddling strokes, boat safety and much more. The skills learned at Range Pond can later be put to the test on several half-day river trips on the Androscoggin River. Participants have the opportunity to have a wilderness experience, often seeing different types of wildlife for the first time.

Participants interested in cycling will meet at Back Bay in Portland, trying out different types of cycles, learning cycling skills and safety techniques. MHS provides hand cycles that are hand powered, allowing people with limited or no lower body capabilities to cycle very successfully.

Basic adaptive golf lessons in driving and putting will be offered this summer at the Toddy Brook Golf Course in Yarmouth.

This summer Maine Handicapped Skiing will conduct its fifth Summer Sports Challenge on Saturday, Aug. 13, at Range Pond State Park, Poland. Teams of up to six people swim, run, canoe, bike and kayak a total of 35 miles in a competitive relay race open to all athletes. The Summer Sports Challenge is a unique event offering a very competitive race for able-bodied and disabled athletes. It is the only event of its kind in the Northeast. Volunteers are also needed for the Summer Sports Challenge.

If you would like to participate or volunteer for the Challenge or learn more about MHS's summer activities, please go online at www.skimhs.org or call (800) 639-

ATTEND FLY-IN
Bethel area residents Harold Clukey and Michael Murphy recently attended the Corsairs Over Connecticut fly-in at Sikorsky Airport in Bridgeport, Conn. Maj. Harold Clukey (retired) flew 16 combat missions in Korea in the L19; and Murphy (pictured here) spent 15 years as an engineer at Sikorsky working on many projects including the systems design on the Corsair. Murphy also served in the National Guard. Pilots Brian Cleary and Brian Daigle flew them from the Bethel Regional Airport to Sikorsky for the air show.

From the

Maine Appalachian Trail Conference

The Volunteer Trail Crew Program of the Appalachian Trail Conference marks its 23rd season this year, sponsoring crews in conjunction with local trail clubs and other partners, including the National Park Service. During the 2005 season, the Maine Trail Crew, under the leadership of the Maine Appalachian Trail Club, will tackle projects involving trail reconstruction and rockwork along 280 miles of the Appalachian Trail in the scenic Maine woods.

Recruitment is underway for new volunteers. The Maine Trail Crew operates through Aug. 11 from its base camp situated on a high ridgeline of an old farmstead just outside of Dexter.

Trail work is hard, physical labor. Trail construction involves working with hand tools; getting dirty is guaranteed.

Who may apply? Persons age 18 or older of all backgrounds are welcome. Enthusiasm, good health, physical vigor, and adaptability are vital.

For information on how to become a volunteer on the Maine Trail Crew, write Maine Trail Crew, P.O. Box 149, Dexter, ME 04930 or call 924-0133 or e-mail: matc@localnet.com.

The Appalachian Trail Conference is a volunteer-based nonprofit organization dedicated to the conservation of the 2,175-mile Appalachian National Scenic Trail, a 250,000-acre greenway extending from Maine to Georgia.

*From the White Mountain
National Forest*

Centennial Walk/Talk

Back in the early 1900s, carving national forests out of vast tracts of public land in the Wild West was simple, but doing the same in the East was out of the question. Considering the larger populations and the smaller acreages of public land, it's a wonder eastern national forests exist at all.

Take a walk back in time and discover how New Hampshire's Congressman John Wingate Weeks passed historic legislation that opened the door to creating eastern national forests, including our very own White Mountain National Forest.

Local history buff Dave Govatski will share insight to the past while touring Weeks State Park in Lancaster on Saturday, June 25, beginning at 9 a.m.

Visit the Weeks' mansion and hike to the fieldstone fire lookout tower that provides excellent panoramic views of the White and Green mountains.

Learn how the Weeks Act continues to affect national forest land acquisition to this day. Participants will also enjoy learning about some of the unusual vegetation of the area.

Govatski recently retired after serving many years as a forester on the White Mountain National Forest and is quite knowledgeable about many aspects of the North Country's natural and cultural history.

The hike is easy to moderate in difficulty. Bring snacks, water, comfortable hiking shoes, and dress for the day's weather. There is no charge for the event and the hike will happen rain or shine.

Meet at the entrance parking lot of Weeks State Park on Route 3, four miles south of Lancaster. The parking lot is on the height of land on the west side of Route 3 across from the entrance of Weeks State Park.

An evening program entitled "Looking Out for New Hampshire's Forests: The Evolution of a Plan to Protect Our Woodlands from Fire," will follow at 7:30 p.m. at the Weeks State Park Summit Lodge. Iris

Baird will converse about the current status of her research into how the Forest Protection system came into being, and will share readings of comments from some of the people who had firsthand knowledge of the process. Baird is the volunteer New Hampshire fire lookout historian, a retired teacher and librarian, member of the Forest Fire Lookout Association, and of various historical societies. Over the last half century she has hiked extensively in the White Mountains and elsewhere.

These programs are part of a series of walks and talks sponsored by the USDA Forest Service during 2005 in honor of the agency's 100th anniversary.

Each month spotlights a different part of the forest with a focus on the history, partnerships, and management of the White Mountain National Forest.

The public is invited to join in and help celebrate while learning about the national forest.

In addition to monthly events, the White Mountain National Forest will host a Forest Festival on Aug. 25 at the base of the Mount Washington Auto Road. Plan on joining us in this day-long celebration and enjoying the activities, booths, tours, and more.

For more information, contact the US Forest Service at (603) 528-8721 ext. 0. (TTY 603-528-8722).

Kancamagus Scenic Byway

The White Mountain National Forest and New Hampshire

Department of Transportation are continuing improvements along the Kancamagus Scenic Byway (Route 112) and at Rocky Gorge Scenic Area. Beginning this weekend, the parking area at Rocky Gorge will be closed occasionally throughout the month of June to complete paving.

Rocky Gorge Scenic Area is located nine miles west of Conway on the Kancamagus Scenic Byway. In 2004, the White Mountain National Forest installed a new bridge spanning the gorge and relocated the trail to Falls Pond. Interpretive signs will be placed along this universally accessible trail this summer.

For additional information, please contact Holly Jewkes at the Saco Ranger District via phone at (603) 447-5448.

REAL ESTATE AND YOU

HOME FREE

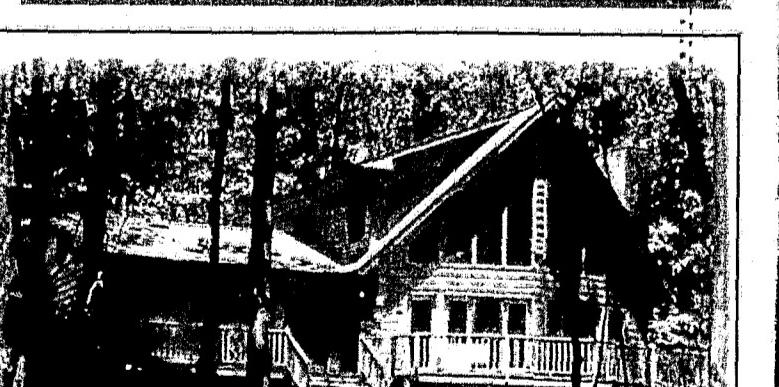

Conventional Wisdom says, "Don't pay off your mortgage early." So are you foolish to consider an early payoff? Absolutely not. By adding just $50 to $100 to your mortgage payment every month, you can save thousands of dollars in interest, pay off your loan quicker, and eliminate a major monthly expense.

The argument usually given against paying a mortgage early is that you can make investments with your extra cash that pay higher returns, such as mutual funds or stocks and bonds. This approach enables you to take the mortgage interest deduction and have easy access to your money, in case you need it. These are all definite pluses, but are not guaranteed savings results.

Any extra income that an investment might generate, over your home equity appreciation, can be offset by a bad year in the investment market. Investment earnings can virtually eliminate the income tax advantage of your mortgage interest deduction, since stocks and bonds are likely to generate a fair amount of dividends, interest, income and capital gains.

It isn't as simple as conventional wisdom - consult a financial expert.
